CHILD NUTRITION PROGRAM PERSONNEL

Number 14

EFFECTIVE TEACHING STRATEGIES is scheduled by the
San Jose State University
California Professional Nutrition Education and Training (CAL-PRO-NET) Center
Part 1: November 13-16, 2001
Part 2: January 9-11, 2002

Effective Teaching Strategies (ETS) 2001 provides child nutrition directors and other trainers with information on planning lessons that use a variety of lesson models and teaching strategies. Nutrition education specialists will find the course useful in performing curriculum development and other partnership activities with teaching staff. College instructors and other teachers interested in presenting nutrition education lessons in the classroom are also welcome to attend. The course will feature effective use of the media, Power Point techniques, and poster board presentations. Different approaches to assessment, including traditional and portfolio assessments, will be presented.

Participants will play an active role throughout the course. Child nutrition directors, nutrition education specialists, and classroom teachers who successfully complete ETS will be prepared to provide ongoing staff development in their districts and agencies and to serve as instructors for CAL-PRO-NET courses.

San Jose State University has scheduled ETS for two separate sessions in late fall and early winter. Part 1 begins Tuesday evening, November 13, 2001, at 6:00 p.m. and continues through 3:00 p.m. on Friday, November 16, 2001. Part 2 begins Wednesday morning, January 9, 2002, at 8:00 a.m. and continues through 3:00 p.m. on Friday, January 11, 2002. Two sessions are scheduled in order to allow participants to apply information and practice skills before completing the second part of the course.

Sandra Queen, M.S., CAL-PRO-NET Coordinator, San Jose State University, has developed an exciting program with an excellent staff of presentors. Instructors will include: Margaret Hughes, Ph.D. and Elba Maldonado-Colon, Ed.D., College of Education, SJSU. Joan Giampaoli, Ph.D., R.D., Nutrition and Food Science Department, SJSU, and Eileen White, Ph.D., R.D., consultant and former Director, Fresno City College CAL-PRO-NET Center, will coordinate the session.

The location for the course will be the historic Hayes Mansion in San Jose, California. This beautiful conference center not only provides a relaxing and comfortable environment, but also enables participants to stay in the San Jose area at a reasonable charge. The cost of lodging will be $95 per night, based on double occupancy.

To obtain an agenda for the course, please submit the attached registration form or request an agenda to review by contacting Sandra Queen at (408) 924-3125, or Violet Roefs, Nutrition Education Consultant, California Department of Education at (916) 322-1563 or (800) 952-5609.
